

THE TROJAN

In appreciation of the expense and effort which the high school has cost them, and of the inspiration and equipment which it has afforded us, we, The Student Body of Troy Rural High School, affectionately dedicate this volume to the friends and the patrons of T. H. S.

The Troy Rural High School, tries to meet the needs of the young people of this community. Its courses are formed and its policies are shaped to benefit all those who see fit to enroll. It is organized now on a new basis and with its larger taxing area it will be able to furnish the very best there is in modern school equipment and instruction. It now offers courses in Manual Training, Domestic Science, Domestic Art, and has a Normal Training department for those who wish to prepare to teach. Athletics are encouraged in every way. An experienced and competent coach of athletics directs the training of the boys along these lines and every inducement offered to influence students to live clean lives, train properly, and play the game on the square.

The school is a member of the Doniphan county high school association and joins freely in all of its activities. Considerable attention is given to music there being regular organizations of glee clubs, choruses quartettes, orchestra and general singing by the student body.

All this makes Troy Rural High School an excellent place for young people. The social life is largely under the supervision of the faculty. Each class has a faculty sponsor who advises them in all matters pertaining to their social life and acts as chaperon when one is needed.

This year the school was a member of the Kansas debate league and much interest is taken in oration and declamation. Some opportunity is afforded for those who are interested in dramatics.

It is hoped that all the young people in the high school district, and any others for whom it will be convenient will plan to enroll in T. R. H. S. next year.

HISTORY OF TROY HIGH SCHOOL

The Troy School was one of the earliest schools founded in this part of Kansas. From a small beginning in the early history of Kansas as a state, the school has had a steady and constant growth. Believing in education with all their hearts the people have supported the school to the very limit of their ability, realizing full well that what ever they spent on education would be returned to them a hundredfold in the better citizenship of the future.

As early as 1866, $4,000 in bonds was voted to erect the first substantial brick building. This served the community well until 1902 when $40,000 was voted and a handsome and up-to-date building replaced the old one. This new building was found to be inadequate to the school and in 1914 a $15,000 addition was built.

The first high school was organized when Prof. U. S. Busch was superintendent of schools. The first class to be graduated was the class of '94 and consisted of the following three members: Miss Mabel Ellis, Miss D. Swiggett, and Miss Bertie Castle. Since that time the number of graduates in each succeeding class has steadily increased until the class of the present year numbers twenty-eight. The total number of graduates including the present class is 322.

If you will turn to the Alumni section in this annual you will find the name of each graduate, the class in which he graduated, his present occupation, and, his address, if such be known.

CLASS HISTORY

SENIOR SKETCH.

On the morning of September 9, 1918, thirty three eager and excited prospective Freshmen, just as the sun peeped over the eastern horizon, trudged nervously, yet anxiously toward the High School building which was to be their new field of learning.

Those who enrolled for the Freshman day were Gordon Merrick, Forest Carpenter, Clarence Griffin, Clarence Hautzenrader, Herbert Abel, John Blevins, Mabel Charles, Gaylord DeHart, Paralee Elder, Elsie Elwood, Katherine Gsell, Josephine Liest, Lawson Mann, Edward Morgan, Hazel Waters, Mildred Knight, Hulda Nitz, Hazel Foley, Vern Simpson, Nellie Sinclair, Olan Hautzenrader, Harley Haupt, Marion Himes, Benjamin Dubach, Marie Fahey, Vern Baldwin, Adolph Kloepfel, Lillie Colley, Violet Duncan, Esther Dyer, Buelah Earhart, Beulah Ramseier, Daisy Bittaker, and Ruth Foley. After a few days we had become acquainted with the new routine of things and to the faculty, consisting of, Florence Lawson, Supt. Charles Marble Jr., Prin. Ethel Huntzinger, Ada Potts, and W. O. Mulvaney.

Our first year was uneventful except for the usual number of parties and wiene roasts. Before the close of the year several of our class had left, being unable for various reasons to finish their first year.

One morning shortly after school started we elected the following officers, Pres. Katherine Gsell, V. P. Adolph Kloepfel, and Sec. Treas. Clarence Hautzenrader. Four boys from our class entered the county track meet and five of our students, the music contest.

Twenty-six of our number survived the Freshman year and came together again as Sophomores. After the football games, in which some of our number participated our time was more than full with the inter class contests, in one of which we were victorious, winning the vocal solo.

The following officers served; Pres. Adolph Kloepfel, V. P. Ellendean Wynkoop, Sec-Treas. Mabel Charles, Reporter, Marie Fahey. The members of our faculty were, W. O. Mulvaney, Supt. Chas. Marble, Jr., Prin., D. W. Banie, Miss Ethel Huntzinger, Miss Viola Malm, Miss Edra Lake, and Miss Sarah Wynkoop.

From the class history we extract the following, concerning our first party of the year, "We had to go home in the mud but we had such a good time we didn't mind such a small thing." A royal feast was given by the D. S. girls in the spring, for the M. T. class and the boys later returned the favor. Our greatest success of this year was the result of the excellent training that we gave the Freshmen.

In our Junior year, John Blevins and James Kloepfel acted as president. Edward Morgan as V. P. and Herbert Abel as Sec- Treas. We occupied a very important position in school life; taking three first places in the class contests, and five of our class being foot ball regulars.

The Junior box social, the biggest event of this kind ever held in Troy, netted over one hundred dollars. This was used in entertaining the Seniors with a banquet at the M. E. Church, followed by a party at the Merrick residence.

Seven of our boys were in the track meet and three girls in the literary-musical contest, a junior winning first place in the essay, and two Juniors taking parts in the six voice glee club which also won first place. Troy captured all first places except two. Seven Juniors had leading parts in "A College Town, the school play, which was so much of a success that it was repeated in Bendena.

Our faculty was comprised of W. O. Mulvaney, Chas. Marble Jr., D. W. Banie, L. P. Whitehead, Miss Viola Malm, Miss Maude Duncan, Miss Myrtle Hunter, and Miss Rachel McKoy.

CLASS HISTORY—Continued.

As Seniors and High School leaders we have enjoyed every day of our school life this year. We got down to business the second day, electing Edward Morgan Pres., James Kloeppel V. P., Hazel Waters Treas., and Mabel Charles Secretary.

From the beginning school activities have been numerous, especially for the Normal Training students. There were five members of the debating teams, seven on the annual staff, and six on the Trumpet staff. The regular football team was wholly a Senior organization. Seven girls and three boys were in the Glee Clubs, with two boys and two girls members of the quartettes. The Senior play, given on April 11, was a decided success.

Now that our High School life is coming to a close, our class motto, "Finished—Yet Beginning" is becoming an actuality.
Fare the well, our Alma Mater.

Hazel M. Waters.

 JOKES

Father of pretty young thing, "How is it, sir that I find you kissing my daughter? I repeat it again, sir, how is it?"

George Hagan: "Great, sir, great."

Miss Jones (in Latin 1) "Translate comes from two Latin words, trans, meaning across, and latio, meaning letter."

John Stanbrough, "Does trans always mean across?"

Miss Jones, "Yes. Like trans Atlantic means across the Atlantic."

John, "Then transparent would mean a cross parent."

One night at Band practice the Troy Concert Band was playing a piece which had at its end the expression, D. C. al, and Albert Zimmerman was the only one to follow instructions.

Professor Johnson, "D. C. means go to the beginning."

Albert, "That's what I thought. It said D. C. Al, so I did."

Miss Jones (in Senior English) "Nellie, name three different dictionaries."

Nellie: "Webster's Standard, Collegiate, and Unabridged."

Clarence Hautzenrader was working downtown for $1.00 a week. The first night he came home and handed his father ninety-five cents. On being questioned as to what he did with the other nickel, he replied, "I spent heem, father. "This happened four successive Saturday nights. On the fifth night his father said, "What you been doing, Clarence, keeping a woman?"

A wise old girl is Katherine Gsell.
The more she learns, the less she'll tell.
And so, of course, the sequel shows
The less she tells, the more she knows.

Rev. "You know him" (returning thanks), "Bless this food for its intended use."
Distant voice over phone, "I'm sorry, but I can't, I've got a date."

Did you ever notice this, when a fellow steals a kiss,
From a righteous little maiden, calm and meek,
That her scriptural training shows, in not turning up her nose,
But just by turning round the other cheek.

PROPHECY

CLASS OF '22.

Let us glance into the future of this memorable class and see what it holds in store for each.

First I can see Herbert Abel, the best athlete in school, as a great wrestler, in fact, the champion welterweight with the capable, Clarence Griffin, with his long wind and loose tongue, as his manager.

Then, John Bevins as a doctor. Yes, a "quack" doctor and the author of several formulas of certain patent medicines.

Mabel Charles will of course be a poetress. Her poems will contain beautiful expressions and require deep thought.

Forrest Carpenter will be a noted artist and will have the dainty and exquisite Ellendeau Wynkoop for his model.

Gaylord DeHart, commonly known as Buck, will be a successful farmer of Rumpus Ridge, Arkansas and his wife will of course be Agnes Theis, his one time boon companion of the Normal Training class while in old T. R. H. S.

Beulah Earhart will surely be an old maid, caring for nothing in particular but for cats, canary birds, and smelling salts.

Elsie Elwood, who used her vanity case so much during her Senior year, will run a beauty parlor where she can powder other noses besides her own.

Paralee Elder with Lawson Mann for her husband, will live on a large sheep ranch somewhere in Montana.

Katherine Gsell will of course get married and live in a pretty little bungalow close to the Post Office.

James Kloepfel, as everyone always expected, will own a big circus and his main attraction will be his large troupe of clowns, headed by Clarence Hautzenrader, who was always a clown more or less, while in school.

Wilbur Knight will learn the barber trade and open an up-to-date shop at Sparks, his old home town.

Edward Morgan's handsome features will win his way into the movies where he will play in slap-stick comedies and let Anna Simpson hit him in the face with custard pies as long as the cash comes their way.

Gordon Merrick will marry Hazel Waters and while she eakes in washings he will peddle soap and perfume for a living.

Hulda Nitz will be the superintendent of a school for girls only and will continually be on the lookout for a man of the ideal type for a husband.

The future teacher of the Normal Training class in the Troy Rural High School will be Thomas Simpson, who always helped his fellow students so much when he was a member of the class.

Vern Simpson will be the janitor at the Court House and his wife, his former class mate, Josephine Liest, will see that he does not go to sleep on the job.

Nellie Sinclair, our most popular girl, will continue to be popular as a nurse in a hospital for the hopelessly insane.

Paul Sscwartz will use his oratorical ability to good advantage by being manager of a tent theater. The leading lady of his show will be Mildred Knight, who won so much praise as an actress during her high school days.

And as for myself, Oh, I shall probably be a Clairvoyant and read any one's present, past and future for fifty cents.

Hugh H. Agee.

CLASS POEM

The Class of '22

There is a class in Troy High
 That bears the trumpet true
 With colors blue and gold
 The class of '22.
 Oh, here's to dear Troy High
 That school of white and blue
 You'll never be forgotten
 By the class of '22.
 We leave behind the Freshmen
 A green bunch they are too
 We hope they'll all be Seniors
 Like the class of '22.
 We'll not forget the Sophomores
 A talented class they grew
 But nothing like the talent
 In the class of '22.
 There's one more class that followed
 Three years, the white and blue
 And next year takes the place
 Of the class of '22.
 After four long years of High School
 We begin our battle anew
 Thinking only of the future
 This class of '22.
 Oh, what will be our future
 Oh, if we only knew
 We hope it shall be successful
 For our class of '22.

Clarence Hautzenrader

CLASS HISTORY

When the usual call for volunteers was sent forth from T. H. S. headquarters the latter part of August, 1919, fifty ambitious young people responded cheerfully, and enlisted in the first division of the great Trojan army which is one of many that fights the ever-continued battle of Knowledge vs. Ignorance.

September 1, saw them reporting for active service, together with the three other higher divisions of this army, at the Trojan camp. Although somewhat unaccustomed to the advanced methods of fighting they entered into the long training with much enthusiasm.

During their first year spent in training camp, these young soldiers succeeded, by the aid of their several commanders, in raiding a number of powerful friends of the enemy, namely, Slang, Carelessness, and Unpreparedness, and at the end of nine months received their promotion to the second division.

This year, the first division had twenty-one deserters and three of their number were transferred to other armies, leaving a total of twenty-six regulars.

The army was granted a three months furlough during the summer and the first division went out better fortified than ever to combat the enemy whenever necessary.

When the summons to meet in camp was again issued the following fall, twenty-six young soldiers reported for duty promptly and enrolled in the second division. With the earnest desire to succeed and receive a promotion to a higher division, they made much progress in their training this year, feeling repaid for their service when at the end of the second year of enlistment they had been awarded enough honors to permit their promotion to the third division.

By 1921, the third division now numbered thirty-two and during their third year of active service in the Trojan army they have tried to please their commanders and to conquer the many battles fought with their old enemy, "Difficulty."

This band of soldiers have had many good times together being true friends to one another and loyal defenders of the Trojan army.

Here's to the third division of the Trojan army! May all of its soldiers succeed and at the end of the required four years of training, receive a worthy and honorable discharge.

 But ever will their names resound
 As worthy of the best renown.

They're like the sun on stormy sea,
 And have one only hope and plea:
 That the oncoming classes will be
 Just like the class of twenty-three.

Life hasn't been always sunny,
 Once they were Freshies so humbly,
 And were looked down on by many,
 This jolly class of three and twenty.

They've probably their teachers sassed,
 And maybe in mischief surpassed,
 But let us all forget that past,
 A slogan for the Junior class.

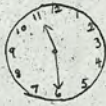

Some day when darkness starts to fall,
 And shadows creep along the wall,
 Just think of our ideals so tall,
 And let us say, "Goodbye", to all.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

It can always be said that we are a good-natured reliable bunch. A few of us have been school mates since we entered the first grade in 1913. These are: Gertrude Wright, Dorothy Culp, Aileen Monroe, Ben Williamson, Elmer Decker, William Reeder, and Rosa Ricklefs. Gradually the others straggled in, some here and some there. Beulah Gurwell was added to the Class in 1914 and Drusilla Gartner a year after that. Allen Able enrolled with us in the seventh grade while the eighth year brought a host of new members. They were: Earl Decker, Veva Earhart, Anna Taylor, Beulah Armstrong, Adeline Dishon, Katherine Kotsch, and Dessie Scarbrough.

What shy, blushing and blundering Freshmen we were when we entered T. H. S. in 1920, but our shyness soon wore off and we became one of the most frolicsome and pepiest classes in the building. Our enrollment was thirty, consisting of the following members: Beulah Gurwell, Lorene Himes, Ruth Warwick, Veva Earhart, Chloe McClelland, Anna Taylor, Gertrude Wright, Dorothy Culp, Beulah Armstrong, Aileen Monroe, Ben Williamson, Elmer Decker, Mary Moser, Clara Meugniot, Louis Miller, Adeline Dishon, Katherine Kotsch, Allen Abel, Drusilla Gartner, William Reeder, Dessie Scarbrough, Albert Zimmerman, Earl Decker, Lillian Webster, Matthew Wilkinson, Ralph Moser, Nellie Wood, Meryle DeHart, Milton Spriggs and Rosa Ricklefs.

Our first day was probably well remembered by all because we made many blunders and went rushing and tearing along in our effort to get to classes. I might add that this lasted a very short time. With much advice and the occasional word "greenie" flung at us by our upper classmen we fared very well. At our first class meeting the following officers were elected: President, Earl Decker; Vice-President, Rosa Ricklefs; Secretary and Treasurer, Katherine Kotsch. Purple and gold were chosen as class colors.

The Sophomores entertained us with a welcome party September 22, 1920 and on Hallowe'en we repaid them with a ghostly witch party. Many inter-class contests were held during the years and the following represented our class: Girls' vocal solo, Adeline Dishon; Boys' vocal solo, Albert Zimmerman; Vocal Duet, Anna Taylor and Dessie Scarbrough; Declamation, Rosa Ricklefs; Instrumental solo, Louis Miller; Piano duet Katherine Kotsch and Rosa Ricklefs; Gir's' debate, Katherine Kotsch and Chloe McClelland; Boys' debate, William Reeder and Earl Decker. We received first in two of these events, the Vocal Duet and Boys' Debate. Recreation for the remainder of the year consisted of a tacky party, wienie roasts and two picnics. When we left school in the spring we were a sadder and wiser bunch than when we entered in the fall.

As most Sophomores we had the "big head" when we came back to T. H. S. after a year's experience and gave the Freshies more teasing than we had ever received. Two of our members Milton Spriggs and Meryl DeHart had dropped out of our class but they were replaced by two members, Alice Isenberg, Mary Sheldon. Our class officers were: President, Louis Miller; Vice-President, Chloe McClelland; Secretary and Treasurer, Drusilla Gartner; Editors, Albert Zimmerman and Beulah Armstrong. We initiated the Freshman by a party, September 23, 1921. January 6, 1922, we went for a skating party at Zimmerman's pond and in February the Freshman gave us a good party. We now claim to be the best and liveliest class in T. R. H. S. We have been successful in many things and the reason for our success (as we have learned) is: Quarreling gets you nowhere, but unity means success.

Rosa Ricklefs.

SOPHOMORE

Allen talks all the time but says that he gets by with it.
 Dorothy is very quiet but says she has a reason.
 Earl says he prefers a Buick to any other kind of car.
 Veva is a hard worker, but still she says she doesn't get her lessons.
 Elmer likes the girls but says they are too much trouble? ? ?
 Lorene has decided that she prefers being a school marm to a wife.
 Alice has decided to take "Art."
 Katherine (that long skinny girl) says she doesn't like to buy groceries at Deckers?
 Chloe says she thinks she will be (a) Wright.
 Louis has "the" smile, although it hasn't much meaning as yet.
 Clara says she is thinking strongly of being an old maid.
 Aileen says that just because she is short is no sign that there isn't a man her size.
 Mary (S) thinks that she will exchange studying for flirting and see if she can't catch a beau.
 Ralph "might" make a good sleeping beauty, but ! ! ! !
 Rosa has decided to be a Jewess.
 William never gets tired teasing the girls, and says it doesn't interfere with his studies.
 Dessie says there is nothing to the men, for they are all just alike.
 Ruth likes J. L. but says she intends to finish High School.
 Lillian says there is lots more in life than just working Geometry.
 Matthew don't say much but thinks lots.
 Ben, though a sissy, never vamps the girls.
 Adeline, our little vamp, declares she does not like the boys.
 Gertrude, one of our best looking Sophomore girls, says there is no use trying, she just can't forget "Goof" ? ? ?
 Albert says he never has time. Why? Ask Miss Jones.
 Beulah A. says she is lonesome since she is the only red-headed girl in the Sophomore Class. (Editors Note; Or in school for that matter.)
 Anna, our little dignified Sophomore, never worries about anything.
 Drusilla says her health is lots better since she has been taking her evening rides in the "Buick."
 Mary Moser says she likes to cook better than study. "Watch out, boys."
 Beulah G. says a certain boy in the Sophomore class doesn't like her. But her motto is, "Never Give Up."

Beulah Armstrong.

WHAT IF

What if Aileen were tall
And Albert were small
And what if Drusie never spoke in the study hall
What if Rosie were vain
And Gertie were plain
And Elmer Decker had a Hindoo name?

What if poor Ben Williamson had a sweet heart to love up a bit
And old Bill Reeder could once make a hit
I am sure two girlies would like their wit.

What if Paddy would play sweetly all day
And Anna would sing us a round-de-lay
Then all the world would be happy the whole long day.

What if Dorothy were loud
And Clara were proud
There'd be no trouble to get a crowd.

What if Lorene were not blushes
And Ruth were all hushes
Then Veva might be the one to put on the paint and the flushes.

What if Mary M. were merry
And Allen's name were Harry
There might be some inducement to tarry

What if Lillian were not neat
And Matthew disliked to eat
'Twould be much more unpleasant for them to meet

What if Louis were ling
And Earl tried to sing
Wouldn't we have a merry ring.

What if Mary Sheldon were sad
Then Nellie might be bad
Saying nothing at all for the rest of the squad.

WHAT IF—Continued

What if Adeline were not beautiful
And Beulah Gurwell not dutiful
Then poor Chloe's hair might not always be arranged suitable.

What if Dessie were unkind
And Alice her teachers wouldn't mind
The most magnificent mountain could not be termed sublime.

If these things were true and Boots Armstrong's hair blue
I'm sure none would dare to ever despair
Or even to doubt that the world might be square

In closing:

If you don't like it
Don't blame us all, it ain't our doin'
But blame the one that wrote this poem.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

On September 5, 1921, a group of thirty-four green lads and lassies found their way to the Assembly Hall of Troy Rural High School. Fearful lest our faces might reveal our feelings, we sank into the nearest vacant seats, thinking thereby to escape the scrutinizing looks of the dignified Seniors. However, we did not escape the pranks and jokes which are always played on Freshmen.

As the days rolled by, the green began to wear off, and we became accustomed to High School life.

This class had the honor of being the first Freshman class to enter high school after the Troy Rural High District had been formed. Twelve members of the class had attended the Troy grades, while the others were from rural districts, surrounding Troy.

Our teachers consider us an average Freshman bunch. Ethel Blunt, Marjorie Doughty, Letha Cordonier, Florence Webster, James Saxton, Charles Reeder, and Boyd Schwartz are the members of the class who have an S (superior) grade in one or more subjects the first semester. Each Freshman studied four of the following subjects: English, Algebra, Domestic Art, Manual Training, Latin, Community Civics, and Physical Geography.

After studying hard for a few weeks, the Sophomores thought we needed a little recreation so they entertained us royally at the school house, September 23. There was a musical program, then games were played and refreshments of brick ice cream and cake were served. A very pleasant evening was spent which will never be forgotten.

The Freshman had their first class party at the school house December 2, and the second party was given at the home of one of the Freshman girls, January 6, 1922. All who attended these parties had a jolly good time.

February 24, the Freshman entertained the Sophomores. An impromptu debate was one of the main features of the evening's entertainment. The subject was; Resolved, That women should not be granted suffrage. It proved the excellent argumentative ability of the Freshman boys and Sophomore girls.

We feel that there will be much more to add in the three remaining years of High School.

Letha Mae Cordonier

THE RAVIN'

(With due apologies to E. A. Poe)

Oh, distinctly I remember on these nights in bleak December;
 When I should have been in slumber,
 but for my dear roommate's snore.
 Eagerly I wished the morrow;—when I could go out and borrow
 Firearms from the hardware store,
 Stop that snore forever more,
 Stop that deep resounding snore—
 Stop it or there would be gore.

Deep into the darkness glaring, long
 I lay there raving, swearing,
 Shouting words of blackest vileness mortal never used before.
 But the sawing was unbroken, and the rasping gave no token,
 And the cuss words that were spoken served but to augment his snore;
 Augment that harsh, rasping snore.
 Going on forever more.

And my roommate, ever boring, still lay snoring, still lay snoring;
 And my swiftest kicks and punches
 Could awake him nevermore.
 And, as finally I slumbered, when the sleeping hours were numbered,
 I would always be encumbered—
 'cumbered by my roommate's snore.
 Maddening me for evermore!

IT'S A MYSTERY TO ME

Why couches are not installed in the study hall for sleppy students.
 How Prof. Oliver remains a bachelor among all his lady admirers.
 How Romeo and Juliet find time to get their lessons.
 Why Miss Jones wears a diamond ring.
 How Pete Kloeppeel gets his lessons without textbooks.
 Why Clarence Hautzenrader wasn't born an ape.
 How Miss Bauersfeld gets the boys in the Glee Club to sing.
 Who Dorothy Barth's "steady" is.
 Why Adolph is going to be a preacher.
 Why Ellendean Wynkoop thinks she can sing.
 Who the best pupil in school is.
 Why the girls are not given a dance hall instead of forcing them to dance in the narrow cloak halls.
 Why it is that Mr. Marble doesn't fail anybody, in his subjects.
 Why Mr. Berry doesn't buy Maxim silencers for the unsilencable student.
 Why a school building never burns down.
 What boy is going to get that new Buick.
 Why Shylock goes skating out to Ricklefs so much.
 How those girls enjoyed their "possum hunt."

WOULDN'T IT?

Wouldn't it be sad if;

Letha should forget to get her Latin.
 Florence Shull were a flirt.
 James forgot his chewing gum.
 Elizabeth Bell should fail.
 Merwyn couldn't talk.
 Hughie would lose his good voice.
 Florence Webster didn't always have her lessons.
 Pearl were not always good natured.
 Bernice were seen without a smile.

Wouldn't you hate to:

Comb your hair as often as Marjorie.
 Be as noisy as Marguerite.
 Be as large as Charles Blevins.
 Have Ruby DeHart's brown eyes.
 Have Oscar lose his rosy cheeks.

And wouldn't it be funny if:

Velma's hair were black.
 Ethel were short.
 Frances Christenson had red hair.
 Virginia were tall.
 Frances Voght were seen without Florence.
 Clarence's hair were curly.
 Ralph always had his lessons.
 Charles didn't talk all the time.
 Boyd's hair were really combed pompadour.

Wouldn't it be a surprise:

If Lucile would speak so she could be heard by all in recitation.
 If Elizabeth Chapple wouldn't whisper so much.
 To see Elsie without Lela.
 If Marjorie Berry didn't have to rip out so much of her work in D. A
 If Caroline would be quiet.
 To see Dorothy in the hall by herself.

But wouldn't it be splendid if:

John would study a whole period at one time.
 Milton should forget his cough.
 Purl were not so bashful.
 Louis could write all our themes

Virginia Sinclair.

THE TROJAN TRUMPET

The High School Notes of past years were superseded at the beginning of school by The Trojan Trumpet, "a paper within a paper." Through the courtesy of the Editor of The Kansas Chief, a regular three column high school section has appeared weekly in that paper.

The first semester staff was comprised of Mildred Knight, Editor-in-Chief; Ellen-dean Wynkoop and Gordon Merrick, Associate Editors; Guita Marble, Juniors; Beulah Armstrong, Sophomores, and Louis Stanbrough, Freshmen.

In the second half, Paul Schwartz was Editor-in-Chief, and James B. Kloeppel Associate Editor. The Class Editors were Hazel Waters, William Chapple, Albert Zimmerman, and Louis Stanbrough, respectively. As faculty overseer and censor, Miss Jones served very efficiently.

The paper was full of good news and wisdom for high school students and adults alike. The editorials were interesting, the departments "newsy," and the jokes entertaining to say the least.

Prof. Marble: "It is hard to say whether snoring is vocal or instrumental music, but this we can be sure of—it is sheet music."

Paul Schwartz: "See heah Mewick, I heah tha staff has a joke on me in the Annual."

Merrick: "Nothing but your picture, Paul."

Junior Class: "It's a shame to have any school these days. It breaks in on the holidays so."

St. Peter to Hautzenrader: "Here take this golden trumpet."

Hautzenrader: "But I never practiced upon it while on earth."

St. Peter: "Right you are. That's why you are here."

Prof. Berry: I think some of the g'r's around here ought to be looked after, and probably sent to the hospital. They must be sick, they seem so weak. I see some of the boys holding them up while they are standing still.

Prof. Marble: "Milton, how fast do the massive glaciers travel?"

Milton: "I think -er—that is-well, about twenty miles an hour."

Don't be anything by halves, especially if you are going to be a wit

If you like these paraphraps, tell your friends.

If you don't like them, just go t'ell.

 TROY HIGH SCHOOL DEBATING TEAMS

Top Row—Left to right: Prof. Chas. Marble, Jr., Ruth Poynter, Louis Miller, Ellendean Wynkoop
 Bot. Row—Left to right: Beulah Gurwell, Paul Schwartz, Hazel Waters, Gordon Merrick

As a member of the Kansas State Debating league, Troy drew Leona and Severance in the preliminary round of the first district. There were seventeen schools competing in this section, on the question, "Resolved, That the Philippine Islands should be given their immediate independence."

The Troy squad was organized with Professor Marble as coach. Throughout the season, there were seven members: Ruth Poynter, Louis Miller, Paul Schwartz, Beulah Gurwell, Ellendean Wynkoop, Hazel Waters, and Gordon Merrick. Much time and preparation was spent. Information packets were secured from K. U. and several members visited the public library of St. Joseph.

The towns-people were very kind in helping the teams. On January 17, County Superintendent Hewins, Rev. Campbell, and Rev. Stanbrough debated the negative team and won. The squad is greatly indebted to Rev. Stanbrough for his excellent help throughout the debate period.

Troy won the first debate by a forfeiture, Severance, then Leona, withdrawing. This caused the squad to work even harder. The semi-finals took place on February seventh. Our opponents were Winchester and Nortonville, who had emerged victorious over Valley Falls and Oskaloosa.

The Affirmative team: Ruth Poynter, Ellendean Wynkoop and Louis Miller, accompanied by Coach Marble and James B. Kloepfel, motored to Winchester. They were defeated owing to some "pick-up" judges who were ignorant of the rules.

The Nortonville team brought bad news. One of their number was sick, and only two of them could debate. So Hazel Waters gave her part to Paul Schwartz and Gordon Merrick, who defeated the Affirmative Nortonville team.

All the negative teams won unanimously, the final score being, Winchester, 180.37, Troy, 179.42, and Nortonville 177.63. Despite our loosing, two of our speakers, Gordon Merrick and Ruth Poynter ranked first and second speakers respectively of all sixteen debaters.

The dramatical contests for the county are the Oration and Declamation. On the evening of May fifth, in the Opera House, the numbers will be given. As to eligibility regular state rules apply, except in the oration where the rules were suspended to allow a Wathena boy, reported to be an especially fine speaker to enter.

The Declamation may be fifteen minutes in length. Troy has eight entries in the preliminary which will take place April twenty-first. All have had previous experience, some having participated in contest work for three years. We feel that one of these will follow the example of the Troy contestants of previous years and win over the rest of the county. Out of the six contests, our school has been victorious three times, Wathena winning twice, and Elwood once. Our entries are: Katherine Kotsch, Marjorie Doughty, Mona Martin, Marjorie Berry, Guita Marble, Druscilla Gartner, Rosa Ricklefs, and Gailord DeHart.

John Stanbrough, James B. Kloeppe and Gordon Merrick will speak in the preliminary oratorical contest the same evening. The Oration is an innovation this year and these boys will try to win the decision for Troy in this event. The time limit for Oration is eight minutes.

JOKES

Allen Able: "I don't see where you get so many girls."

Griffin: "Oh, that's easy, I just sprinkle a little gasoline on my handkerchief."

Bill Chapple: "I feel like thirty cents."

Grace: "How things have gone up since the war."

Frosty Carpenter: "Best be the tie that blinds."

Sing a song of sixpence
Pocket full of dough,
Let the girlies find it out,
See the sheckles go.

Prof. Oliver: "What do you know about cells?"

Bill Reeder: "Not very much. I've only been in two."

Heard Among the Seniors at the First of the Term.

"I'm awfully sorry, but I have to stay at home tonight."

"My mamma won't let me."

"Oh, I was out so late last night, I just can't go tonight."

"Haven't a thing to wear."

"Awfully sorry, but I've got three long lessons to get."

"No, I've already got a date."

"I've got the awfulest headache, just don't feel like going."

"I promised Gailord I'd go with him."

"I have to meet the train, my cousins grandfather's nephew is coming to see me."

"I'm not going to be here."

"I can't go under any circumstances."

"We girls have decided not to accept any dates for tonight."

But we boys didn't mind, we cheered up, kept a cool head and warm feet, and
"even tried again."

Good Bye, Seniors.

Mr. Berry: "What is steam?"

Snake: "Water in a high state of perspiration."

Peggy and Russell were watching two pretty girls who had met on the street and were kissing each other rapturously. "Here's another one of the things that's unfair," said Peggy. "What is that?" asked Russell. "Women doing man's work," was Peggy's reply.

Mr. Marble: "What caused the glacial formations in Europe?"

Pete: "At the close of the forty day flood they had a big freeze."

Mable: "Don't you remember when you were first struck by my beauty?"

Clarence G. "Yes, it was at the masked ball."

Pearl Howland sailed into Hirsch Brothers and said: "Will you show me the thinnest thing you have in a blouse." "I'm sorry, madame", answered the saleslady, "but she's gone to feed her face."

Paddy: "May I speak to Ellendean?"

Mrs. Wynkoop: "No, if you want anything come and ask me?"

Paddy: "All right, may I have a date?"

Josephine: "What makes the earth so rich?"

Gouffie: "It is so full of nuts."

Professor Oliver gave this advice to the Freshman Manual Trainers, "Always court a girl as you would eat ice cream. Take your time and get the full flavor."

The Editor says:

"If you hold her hand she may think you foolish, if you don't she'll wonder why.

"If you kiss her she may think you a cad, if you don't she'll think you slow.

"If you offer her a cigarette she may be offended, if you don't she'll think you consider her puritanical.

"If you tell her of women you have met she may think you're a rounder, if you don't she may think you've had no experience.

"If you tell her she is the first girl you have ever loved, she may think you lie.

"If you tell her she is the first you have ever kissed, she will know you lie."

Now what in the deuce is a fellow to do?

The Associate Editor's comeback:

"If she goes with the boys, she's a coquette, if she doesn't and prefers a "steady" she couldn't get any one else.

"If she majors in science or Latin she's queer, if she doesn't she's looking for snap courses.

"If she is athletic she loses her maidenly charms, if she isn't, well the girls can't do much any way.

"If she asserts herself in class she is strong-minded, if she doesn't she hasn't any brains.

If she doesn't talk much she is uninteresting, if she does she is tiresome."

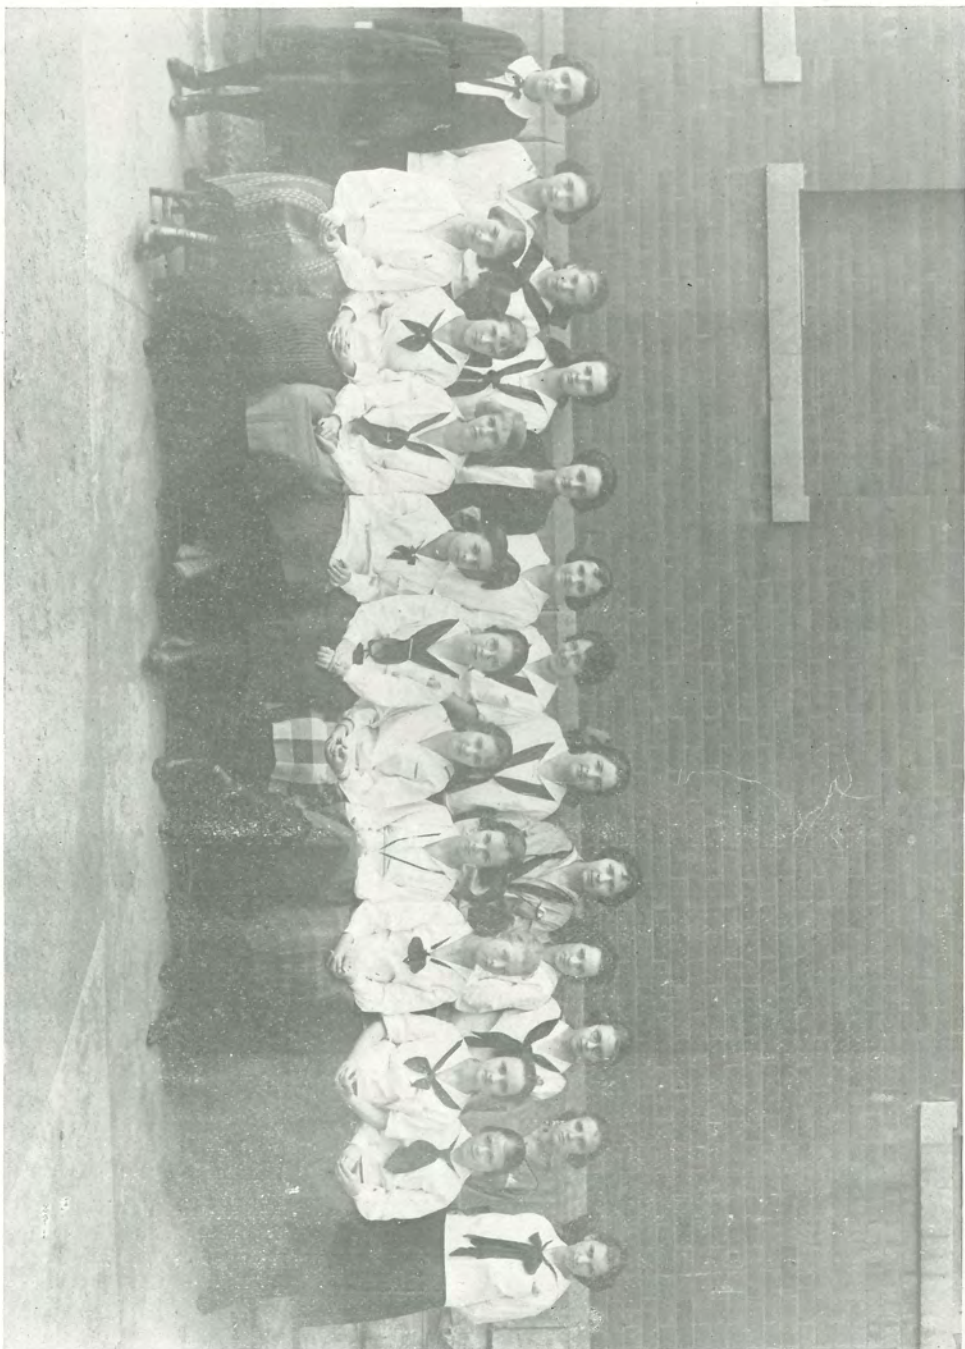

Now what in the deuce is she to do?

Hautz's English Composition.

I saw a beautiful girl sauntering down the street. She of course was feminine. As she was singular, I become nominative. I went over to her, changing to verbal discourse, and thus became dative. She being not objective, I became plural. We walked home together. Her mother was accusative, and I became imperative. I walked in and sat down. Her little brother was an indefinite article. I talked of the future, and she changed the subject. I kissed her, and she was now possessive. Her father became present, and I became a past participle.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club was organized at the beginning of the school year of 1921-22. At first there were eighteen members but four were added later making a total of twenty-two.

Grace Parker was elected librarian of the organization and maintained the office throughout the year.

The Club met twice each week, one time during the regular music period, the other after school hours.

The Club sang at a number of the county Teacher's Meetings which were held in Troy, and furnished several numbers for both the "Junior Pie Social" and the "All School Box Social."

The first public concert that the Club gave was the "Christmas Cantata" which was given at the Methodist Church, December, 18, 1921.

This concert was entirely chorus work with the exception of a soprano solo by Ellendeen Wynkoop and an alto solo by Alice Isenberg.

Their next appearance was in the concert given February 21, at the Methodist Church by the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs together with the Orchestra. In this they sang six numbers.

In the County Music Festival they were one of the Troy High School entries.

The names and the parts taken by the members are: First soprano: Ellendeen Wynkoop, Agnes Theis, Marjorie Berry, Anna Taylor, Aillen Monroe, Hulda Nitz, Katherine Kotsch, Velma Dyer, Ruth Graves.

Second soprano: Elsie Elwood, Paralee Elder, Mildred Knight, Drusilla Gartner, Mabel Charles, Rosa Ricklefs, Frieda Estes.

Altos: Grace Parker, Marjorie Doughty, Alice Isenberg, Lillian Webster, Dessie Scarbrough.

"The man that hath no music in himself, nor is not moved by the concord of sweet sounds, is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils: The notions of his spirit are as dull as night and his affections as dark as Erebus: Let no such man be trusted.

Shakespeare.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boy's Glee Club was organized within a few days after the opening of school. At first there were eleven members, but later it was enlarged to thirteen.

Within a short time after the Club was organized it sang many times before the assembly at school, at numerous school entertainments, and was invited to sing at an entertainment put on by the American Legion, at Troy. The boys sang at the T. H. S. concert in February, and also in the County Musical Festival; in this they sang one number with the Girl's Glee Club as a mixed chorus.

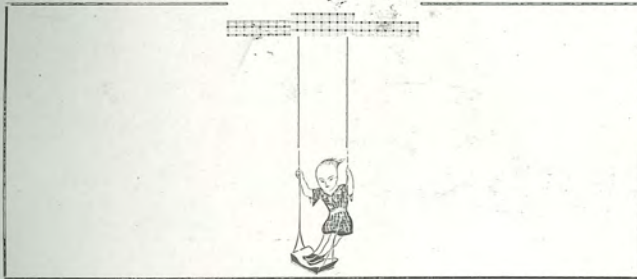

The talented instructor, Miss Bauersfeld, is, indeed, highly responsible for the success of the organization, and to her the club is very grateful, for her earnest and untiring endeavors.

Members of the club:

First Tenors: George Hagan, Elmer Decker, Gailord DeHart, Hughie Wood and Oscar Nelson.

Second Tenors: Clarence Hautzenrader, Edgar Waters, Reilly McKernan, John and Louis Stanbrough.

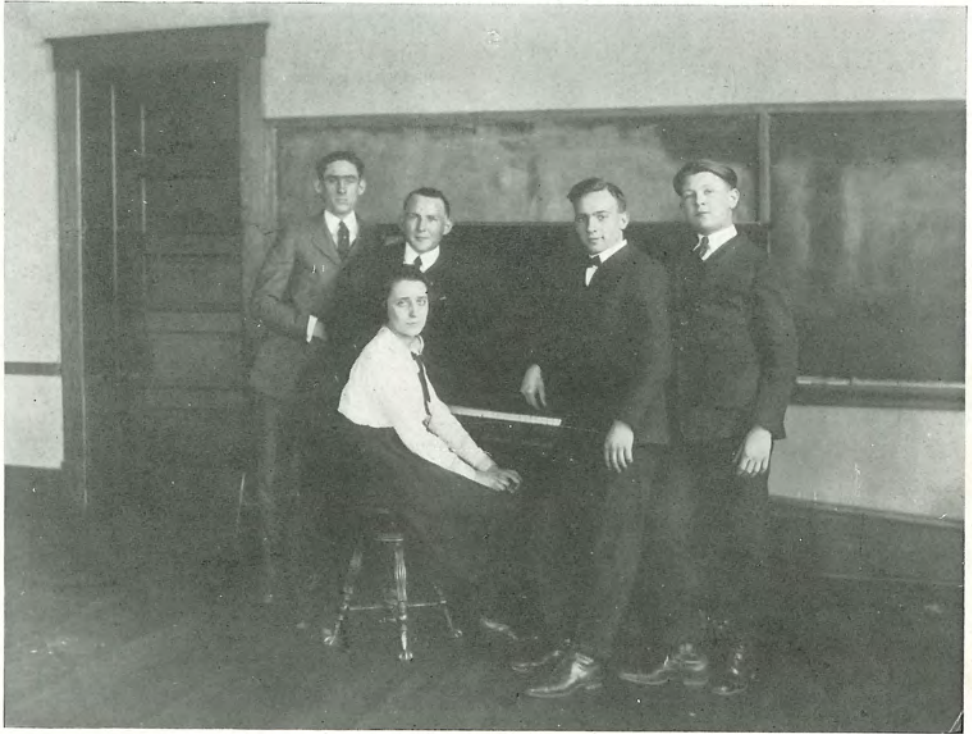

Basses: Albert Zimmerman, Gordon Merrick, and Louis Miller,

HIGH SCHOOL SONG.

Oh here's to you, so good and true,
 Oh here's to T. H. S.
 We'll sing your praise through all our days
 Oh you we'll never fail.
 And when we're done,
 With High School fun,
 And all its care free ways,
 Our all we'd give,
 Once more to live,
 Again those happy days.

BOYS' QUARTETTE

The Boys' Quartette, as well as the Girls', was not organized until after Christmas and because of this they did not accomplish as much as they might have done if they had had more time; nevertheless they sang at the High School Concert, several times in assembly, at school, and were one of the Troy entries in the County Music Festival.

The quartette was required to practice outside of school hours because all of the periods of the regular music hours were already occupied. The members of the quartette are: First tenor, George Hagan; Second tenor, Clarence Hautzenrader; First bass Gordon Merrick; Second bass, Albert Zimmerman; Pianist, Miss Bauersfeld.

GIRLS' QUARTETTE

The Girls' Quartette, although not organized until after Christmas sang several times in public concerts.

Their first appearance was on the program given at the High School Box Social. They also sang in the School Concert given on February 21, at the Methodist Church.

The Quartette sang at the Doniphan County Music Festival at Troy, April 14, as one of the Troy numbers.

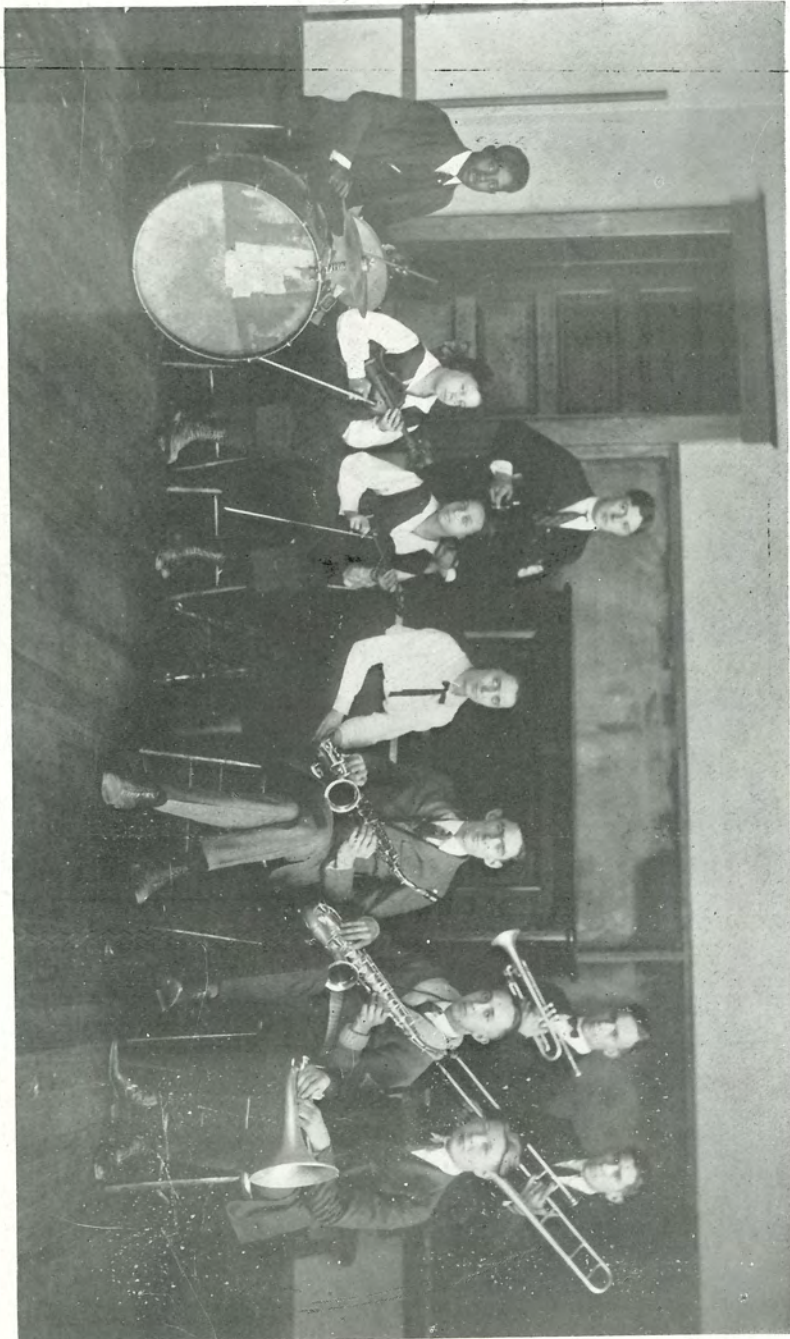

The members of the Quartette are: First soprano: Ellendean Wynkoop; Second soprano, Anna Taylor; First alto, Mildred Knight; Second alto, Alice Isenberg.

Society

Sheep, of Rumpus Ridge, went courtin' one night and they played cards. Sheep was playing for hearts, Marthy was playing for diamonds, and Iry played for clubs. Sheep didn't get any hearts, Marthy didn't get any Diamonds, but Iry got one Club, and he and sheep played High-Low Jack over the fence. As Sheep passed the back window Marthy stuck her head out and said, "I'll be at home tomorrow night." Sheep hollered as he loped away, "So will I."

ORCHESTRA

ORCHESTRA

The High School Orchestra was organized immediately after school opened in the fall, under the direction of Miss Bauersfeld, music instructor, and within a very short time after its organization it was sufficiently developed to take part in the school entertainments.

The first appearance of the Orchestra was at the Junior Pie Social which was given during the first semester.

In the second semester the Orchestra appeared on the program at the All School Box Social, also at the High School Concert, February 21, at the M. E. Church. The Orchestra was one of the representatives of T. R. H. S. in the Doniphan County Music Festival. The members of the Orchestra and the instrumentation:

Elmer Decker	Trombone
Earle Decker	Saxophone
Albert Zimmerman	Saxophone
Miss Alma Bauersfeld	Pianist
Clarence Hautzenrader	Cornet
George Hagan	Alto Horn
Louis Miller	First Violin
Lillian Webster	First Violin
Florence Webster	First Violin
Matthew Wilkinson	Drums

GENERAL CHORUS.

During the last semester the General Chorus which consisted of the two Glee Clubs and all other students who were interested in music and wished to take part, met twice a week (Tuesday and Thursday) during the regular music period.

Miss Bauersfeld was in charge and a very interesting and instructive work was carried on by her.

At the end of the year all those who took part in this work felt themselves well paid for the time they had spent in General Chorus.

MUSICAL REVIEW OF THE SCHOOL YEAR OF 1921-'22
IN THE TROY HIGH SCHOOL

The music work was carried on, in Troy High School, in a very systematic and well-organized manner.

By the combined efforts of Supt. Berry and Miss Bauersfeld, and the students they have made the most successful musical year in the history of T. H. S.

A plan was devised by Supt. Berry by which there was one thirty minute period in each school day to be devoted to music.

On Monday of each week this period was occupied by the Girls' Glee Club, on Tuesday by the General Chorus, Wednesday by the Boys' Glee Club, Thursday by the General Chorus, (the Girls' Glee Club also met Thursday evening after school), Friday by the Boys' Glee Club.

It was so arranged that a certain amount of credit was given to those who were members of Glee Club or Orchestra.

A new set of song-books and a new phonograph were purchased this year and the expense was met by the High School Concert at the M. E. Church, February 21, and by the Carnival given at the School House, March 17.

The Christmas Cantata and the High School Concert were two successful numbers and the performers did themselves credit.

The whole School may be justly proud of the manner in which its entrants performed in the County Musical Festival, and those who took part owe much of their success to the support which was given to them by the rest of the school.

The musical division of the school will greatly miss the Class of '22 who were so instrumental in the musical activities of the Troy High School.

Said he to her, "Why I'm the one."
And soon he found that she was won
So shortly after both were one.

On the school bulletin one day appeared the following notice: "What is the worst thing in the world?" and immediately following, "Singing by our quartettes."

Take Notice, Griffie!

A Ford is like a bath-tub because everybody owns one, but nobody wants to be seen in one.

Earl Decker, "When I left you last time after kissing you, I was so inspired that I composed a little ballad."

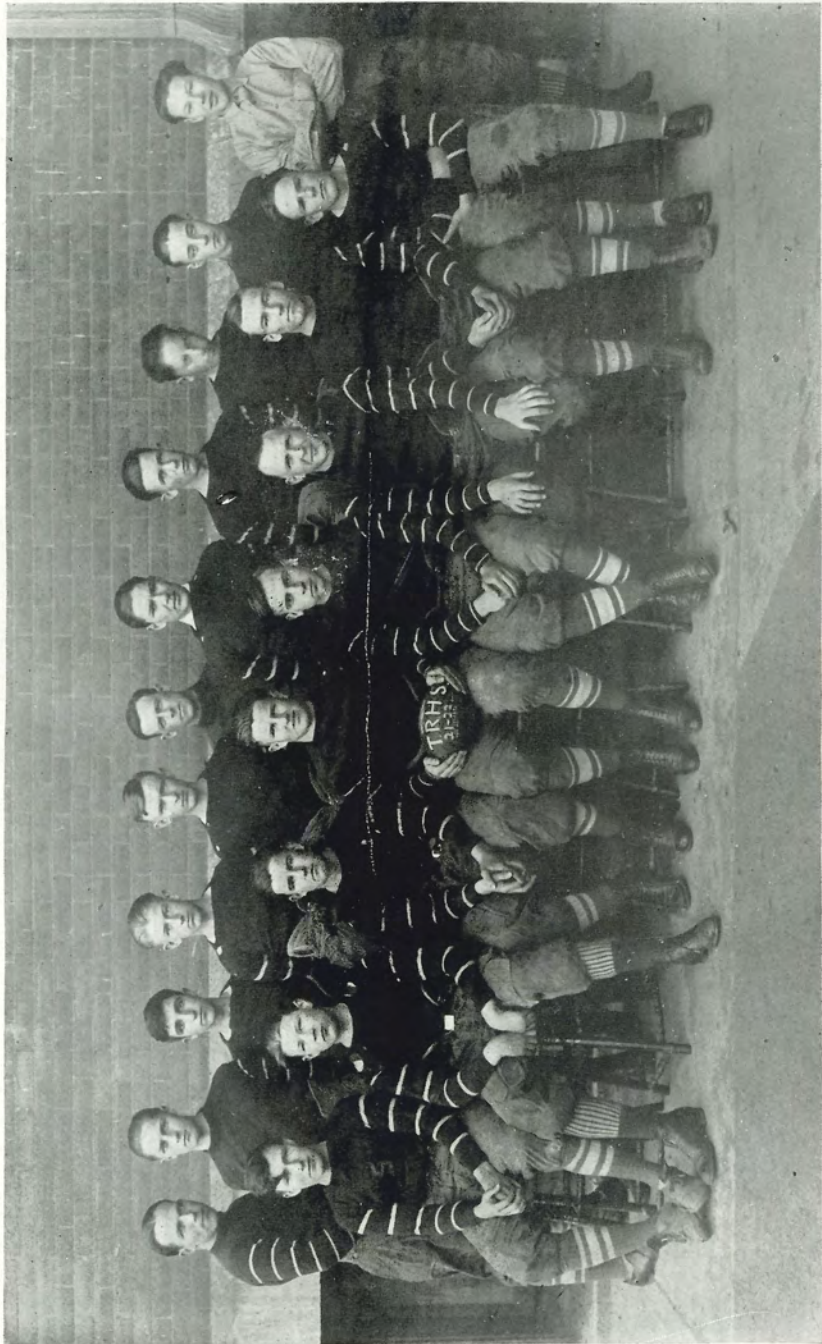

She (several hours later), "Well, dear, tomorrow you'll be able to compose a whole opera, won't you."

ATHLETICS

FOOT BALL SQUAD

FOOT BALL GAMES

In athletics the year was not singularly successful if measured by the number of games won but if measured by the morale of our men and by the spirit of fair play and square dealing, then was our year a successful one. We were unable to have a basket ball team on account of not having a place to play and therefore devoted our time wholly to foot ball. Our standing for the six games played was three won and three lost. We played the following games with results as indicated.

Wathena 0	Troy 51
Highland 0	Troy 89
Savannah 20	Troy 0
Highland 18	Troy 0
Robinson 40	Troy 0
Wathena 0	Troy 6

A track team has been organized and work has already commenced in preparation for the coming track and field meet. A large number of men are working nightly under the able direction of Prof. Oliver and prospects are good for a winning team this year. We will have men entered in all the events in the county meet and expect to win our share of the prizes.

We Will Measure Up

It was said of George Washington that the office of President of the United States was "cut to his measure"—it fitted him better than any other man of his time.

The life of each of us is cut to our measure; it is up to us to recognize and live up to its full capabilities.

This institution is doing its best to fulfill the purpose for which it came into being—to assist the people of this community, through the wise management of finances, to attain their full share of success.
